The "Growing Your Business in a Changed Economy" program received an impressive turnout of more than 200 local businesspersons at the Valley-Shore YMCA in Westbrook on May 13. The discussion was hosted by Joe Connolly of WCBS and The Wall Street Journal, along with a panel of businesspeople. The various industries represented comprised the legal, finance, television, and gaming fields. All proceeds from the event will go to the YMCA's gym renovation project to accommodate its ever-expanding membership of 9,000 people from the shoreline.
